Dedication

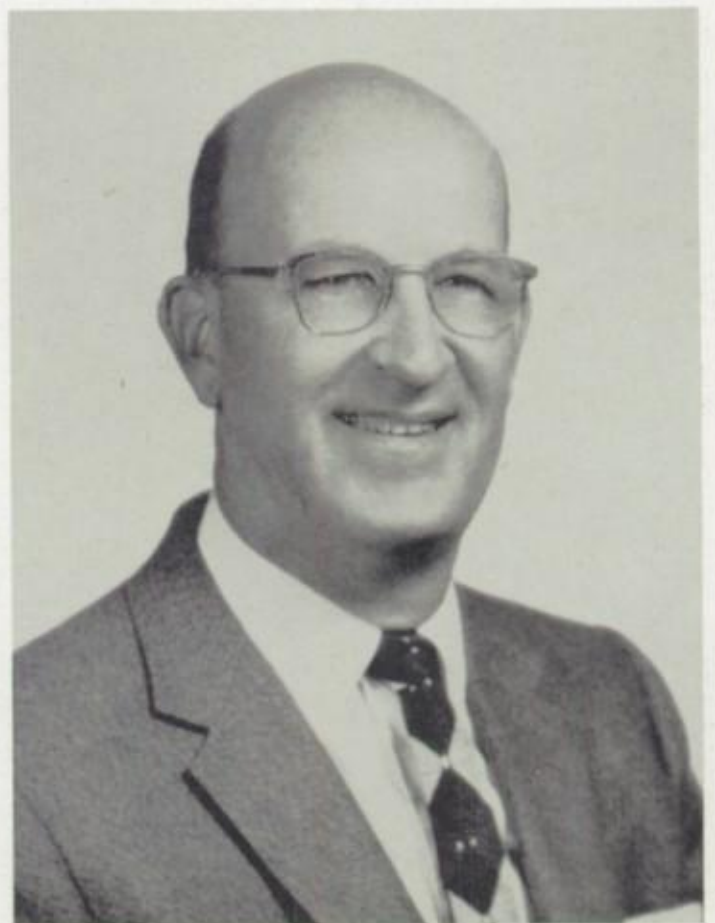

We, the Class of 1959, are proud and happy to dedicate our Yearbook to Mrs. Margaret McCarthy. Her years of service to us, both in the grades and in high school, in the classroom and outside, have endeared her to us. She has enriched our lives with her wise teaching and sound advice, and we wish her many more years of success and happiness.

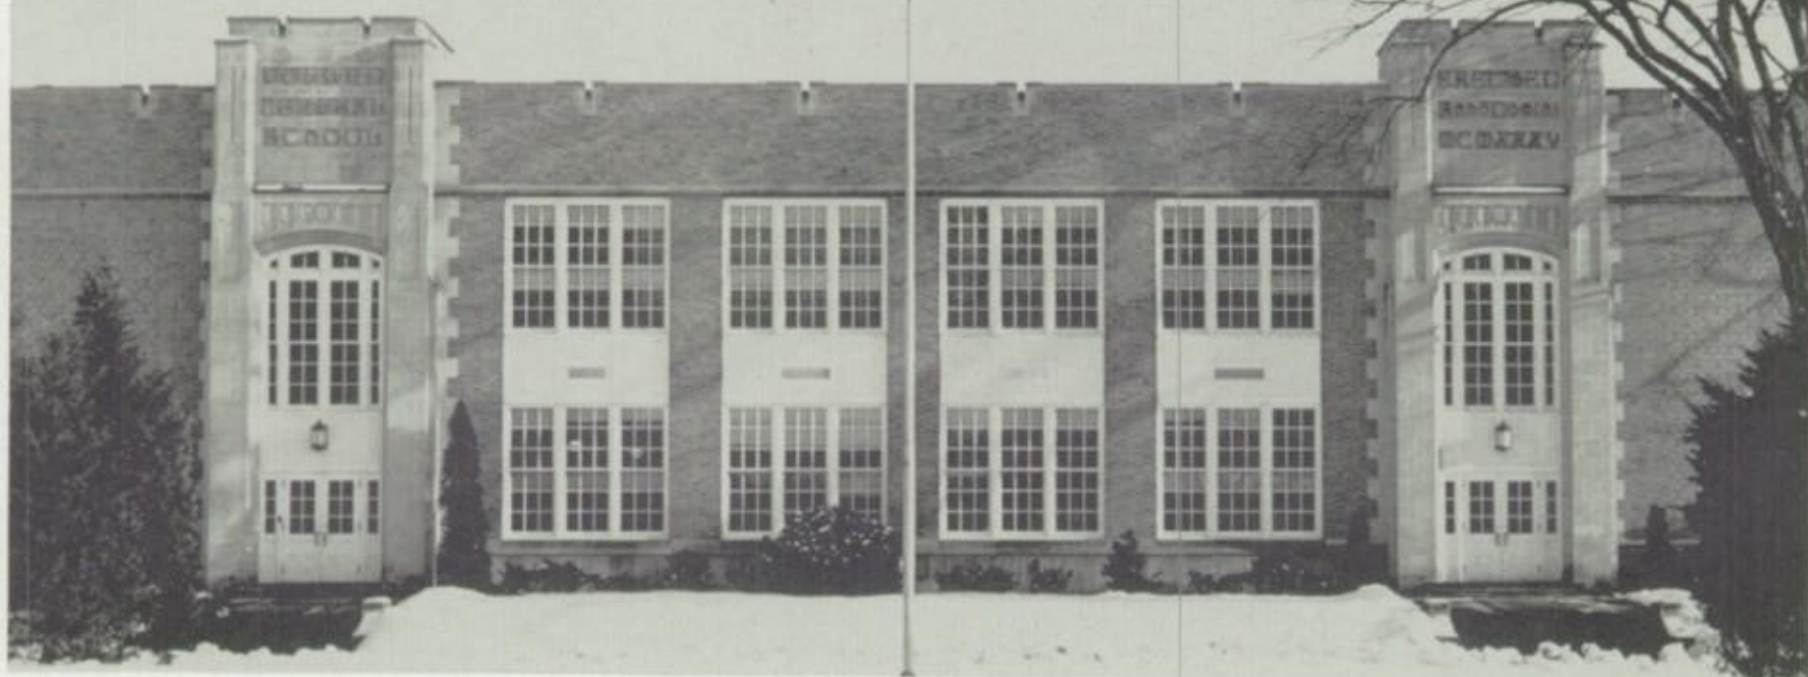

We are deeply indebted to Mr. Leslie Linsenbarth for all the knowledge, humor, and advice he gave us; we profited greatly by just knowing him. Always with a kind word or witty remark, Mr. Linsenbarth was one of the best-liked teachers in our school. We like to think that we were "his class", and we shall always remember him as a great teacher and a true friend.

Appreciation

To Mr. James Hane, Vice-Principal and mathematics teacher, we wish to express our profound appreciation for all he has done for us. All too often the value of his service in these dual roles is overlooked. Mr. Hane is a very capable teacher and dependable friend, and we all want to say a very hearty "Thank you!"

Editorial

We, who are about to leave these hallowed halls to make our mark in the world, take a last, nostalgic look around and wish for a brief moment that it all didn't have to be ending so soon. Our personalities and everlasting friendships were formed here, never to be forgotten, only to be changed as we age with the passing years. Within the portals of P.C.S. we have known laughter and fun, we have seen despair and tragedy, we have gained knowledge and inspiration, and we have sensed beauty and solitude. Herein we shed the cloak of childhood, never again to be as completely without responsibility as we once were.

Our years in high school were, for the most part, happy ones. We did have our setbacks and disappointments, but we can credit them to being a part of growing up. Perhaps we didn't always live up to expectations, but that, too, can be blamed on inexperience. All in all, we have learned from our failures never to make them again, and, as the years pass, we shall have only memories by which to recall the irresponsibility of our youth.

The close associations with the teachers, possible only in small schools; the extra-curricular activities, which provided hours of fun and relaxation; the plays and band concerts, our important forms of entertainment; last minute cramming to sink or swim on tomorrow's exams, and our ignored complaints about this and that, will take their places in our memories, along with the precious adolescent friendships.

Thank you, P.C.S., for helping us to become the individuals we have become, with a true sense of moral honesty and character. Thank you for the precious years we have known and lost to another generation. Thank you for helping us to grow up.

Science Award

The Bausch and Lomb Science Award was won by Richard Ulinski this year for attaining the highest scholastic standing in high school science subjects. This award will be given to Dick at graduation.

As winner, he will be eligible to compete for a science scholarship at the University of Rochester.

Boys' and Girls' State

The opportunity to represent Poland Central School at Boys' and Girls' State last year came to us through the efforts of the American Legion Adirondack Post 1118.

In their Junior year, Mary Lou Phillips and Terry Wilcox were chosen for this honor. Mary Lou went to New Paltz State Teachers College, and Terry journeyed to Colgate University for a week in June to learn the fundamentals of government.

Mary Lou Phillips, Terry Wilcox

Oratory

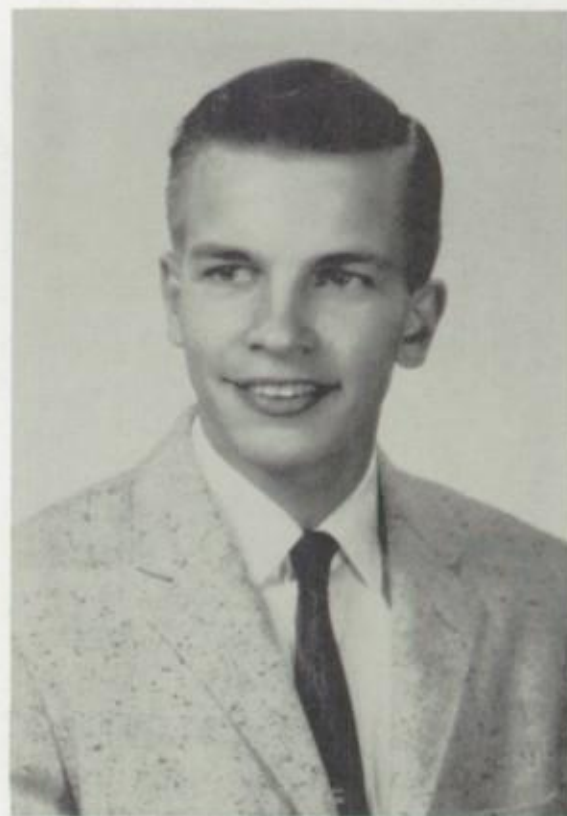

L. to R. Lenore Young, Roberta Rommel, Emily Dunmore.

For the past four years Poland has participated in the American Legion Oratorical Contest. Lenore Young, Roberta Rommel and Emily Dunmore have represented us in the county finals. This year Lenore placed second; last year Roberta won fourth place, and in 1957 Emily placed fourth. The first year that we entered the contest, Lenore placed third.

January 14, 1959

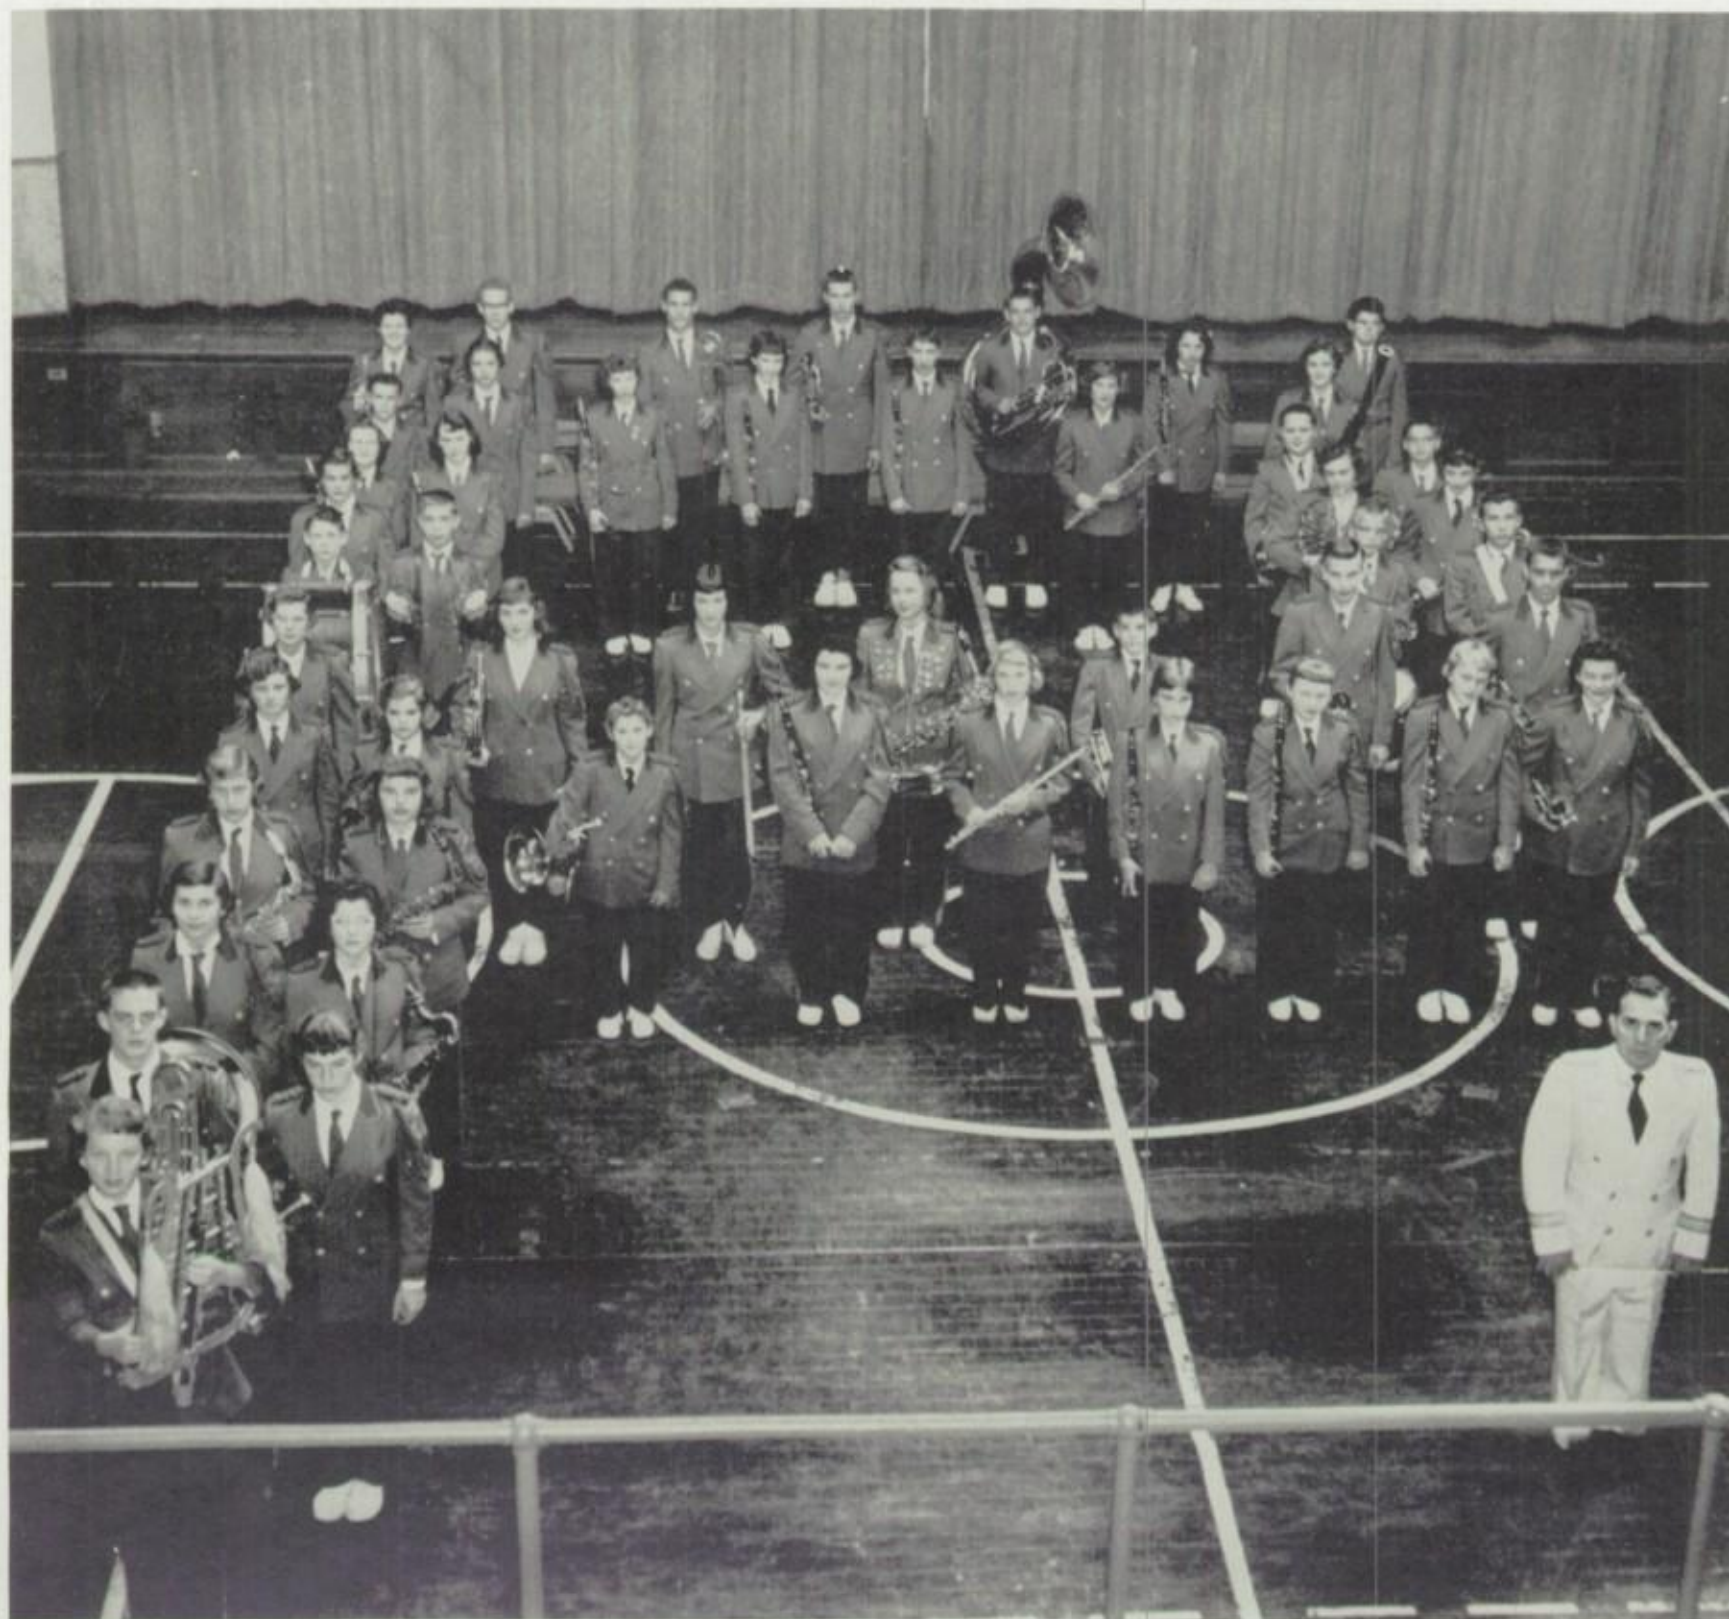

He was a gallant little boy who made the best of a most difficult birth defect. We shall always remember his friendly smile and courageous attitude.

Music

Senior Band

The Senior Class wishes to express its appreciation to the Senior Band for the many hours of pleasure it has given us throughout our school years. For those of us who were not in Band, there were hours of delightful listening and relaxation from our routine school duties, but for us who were in Band, there were hours of education, friendship and knowing the pleasure that can be gotten from a knowledge of music. We shall never forget our days of practice and competition, the tenseness of presenting a concert, the All-State weekends and our right to boast that ours was a "Grade Six" Band, recognized by the national music yearbook, First Chair.

Of all the organizations to which we belonged while in school, our most cherished memories will be those of our years in Band. Thankyou, Mr.Truscello.

Poland Band Earns Rating In Yearbook

Poland — The Poland Central School Band has been honored through nomination and acceptance to "First Chair of America," a national yearbook approved by the National School Music Competition Association. The book recognizes achievements of outstanding high school musical organizations in America. This year one hundred organizations from the nation will be featured.

Only musical groups and directors recommended by the National Approval Board, which is composed of America's finest high school and college directors from every section of America, are selected for this publication. Exceptional groups are nominated for this honor after achieving and maintaining high national standards of musicianship in their performances in contests and concerts.

The musical achievements performed by the Poland Central School Band in contests and concerts have been instrumental in bringing this national honor to the Poland school. The band has received the highest ratings possible in New York State Competition for the past two years, and has received excellent results for the past eight years in Spring Festivals. James Truscello, band director and chairman of the Music Department, who teaches all the Poland Band members, is in his ninth year of teaching at the Poland Central School.

This year's edition of "First Chair of America" will feature pictures of the Poland School Band, Truscello, ensembles, group and individual pictures of outstanding first chair band members, and a short biography of the Poland Central School Band and of Truscello.

Chosen to All-State Band

Pupils Picked for Second Time

Poland—Two Poland Central School pupils, Judith Wall and Edith Young, have been selected, after auditions, to be members of the New York All-State Band which will perform at the New York State Scholastic Music Association Conference in Buffalo. This highly select band will feature 140 outstanding high school musicians who were chosen from over 500 contestants that were auditioned throughout the state during the last week in September.

This is the second consecutive year that Judith and Edith, who play baritone saxophone and bass clarinet respectively, have been honored with membership in this All-State group.

Both girls are members of the Poland Central School Band, which has received

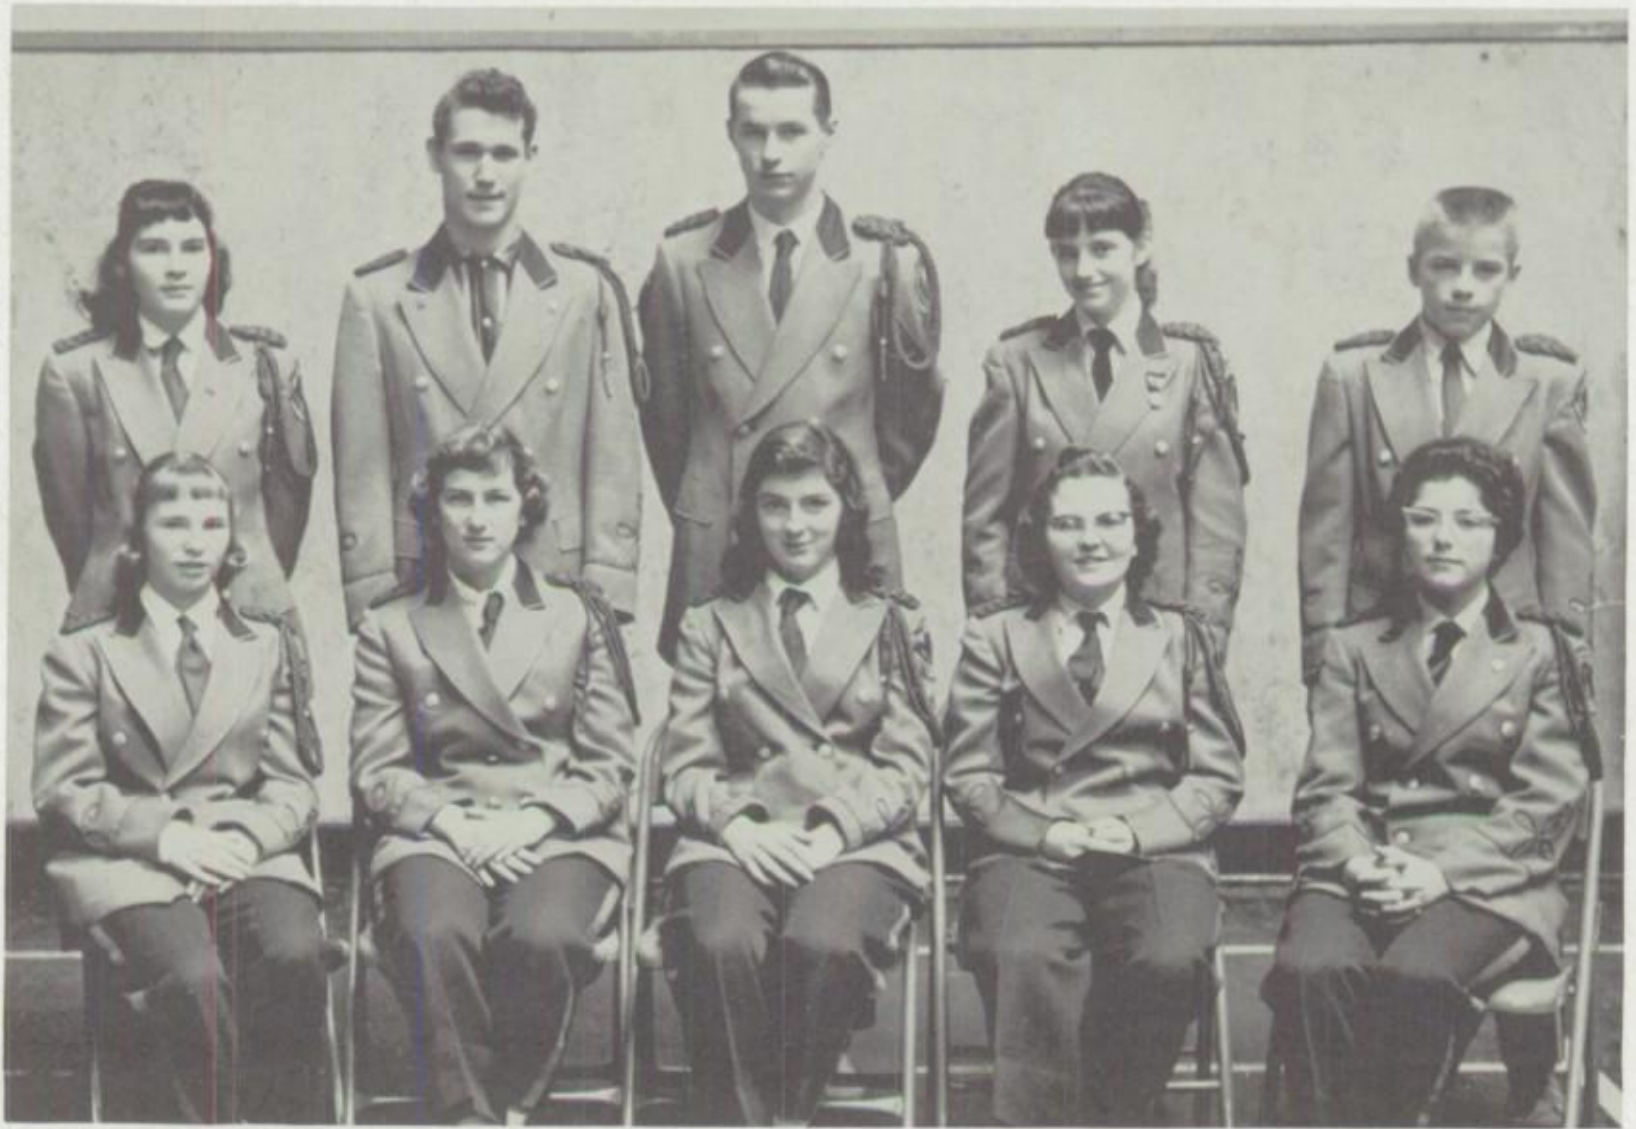

A's in grade VI competition during the past two years, and both girls have received A's in Grade VI Solo-competition for the past three years.

This year NYSSMA and the Eastern Division of MENC will hold a joint meeting at Buffalo on Jan. 22 through 29.

The New York All-State Band, will be directed by Mark H. Hindsley, director of music, University of Illinois, and will rehearse during the conference and will present its concert on Saturday evening, Jan. 24, with the New York All-State Chorus and Orchestra.

James Truscello, Poland Central School Band Director, and chairman of the Music Department, will accompany the students, and will participate in the conference as Chairman of Woodwinds.

Senior Class Will

WE, THE CLASS OF 1959, being of questionable mind and memory do hereby bequeath to our equally questionable followers, the following:

1. One pair of well fought-over scissors during Yearbook meetings.
2. One Homeroom teacher and Room 17.
3. The ceiling and spotted walls from our Senior Play.
4. Our treasured seats in Band and the right to go last in the lunch line.

To each Junior we bequeath:

I, Lenore Young, leave to Frances Buck my strong voice

To Les Dunmore, Twee leaves her seat on Bus 8 and the right to do dishes.

I, Jimmy Taft, leave to Linda Burlingame my class ring and my address.

I, Ellen Goggin, leave to Carol Edwards my giggle and my sports ability.

I, Pat Houghtaling, leave to Peggy Carnright my flirtatious ways.

I, Carol Moran, leave to Carolyn Friel my right to gossip and all my boyfriends.

I, Barbara Rachon, leave to Donna Chrisman the right to be engaged in the senior year.

To Judy Gauthier, I, Janet Willoughby, leave my frivolous ways.

I, Eddie Wright, leave to Frank Cowan my sports ability and my flirtatious ways when no one's around.

I, Judy Wall, leave to my little cousin, Lois Gianini, my datebook, my late nights and my right to go out with Italian boys.

I, Roberta Rommel, leave to Nancy Darrow all my horses and all my men.

I, Mary Lou Phillips, leave to Carol Hampston my right to go steady and my ability to do Chemistry.

I, Juanita Franken, leave to Brenda Dauback my earrings and my poise.

To Gilbert Haver, Robert Hampston leaves his position on First String and his right to be late.

To Jean Dealing, Maxine Kelhi leaves her height and dark hair.

To Linda Jones, I, Carol Moran, leave my ability to understand all Sciences.

I, Skip Haskell, leave to Skip Heiser my nickname and my fiery temper.

To Bill Jones, Bill Failing leaves his masculine physique.

To Charlotte King I, Jack Kelly, leave my conformist ways.

To Michaelene Kostyn Evelyn Arthur leaves her bottle of peroxide.

To Kenny Miller I, Linda Rommel, leave my bottle of hair spray.

To Carol Nightingale, 'Nita Franken leaves her bird-like voice.

I, Jack Kelly, leave to Kathy Piseck my love for the unnatural, my petite nose and my parking permit.

To Sally Place I, Juanita Franken, leave my ability in science and my glamorous ways.

I, John Smith, leave to Arlene Platt my power to relax during study hall periods.

To Helen Pomichter, I, Mary Lou Phillips, leave my position as guard and my map of North Gage.

I, Skip Haskell, will not leave Ardythe Pritchard.

I, Ronnie Murray, leave to Larry Randall my even temper and love of a Ford pick-up.

To Dick Rapavi, I, Richard Ulinski, leave my manly ways and ample supply of girls.

I, Frank Thayer, leave to Jim Reddington my place on the Honor Roll and the stolen keys to Mrs. Tudhope's car.

To Martin Robinson I, Richard Ulinski, leave my ability to concentrate.

I, Edward Wright, leave to Philip Root my knowledge of the game of basketball.

To Cecelia Schmidt I, Barbara Rachon, leave my engagement ring.

To Eleanor Schrider I, Jim Weakley, leave my athletic ability.

To Skip Seifried I, John Smith, leave my "well developed muscles," some fatherly advice and my seat in English IV.

To Carole Tudhope I, Bruce McNeil, leave my undisputed ability to dance.

To Donald Wall I, Jack Kelly, leave my right to read the paper in second period study hall.

I, Barbara Rachon, leave to June Warner the ability to speak English.

I, Terry Wilcox, leave to Peter Wallace the right to use the testing equipment in the Science room.

I, Lenore Young, leave to Edith Young my right to come in late and my right to entertain in the game room.

I, Linda Rommel, leave to Tom Ward my license and keys to my car.

To Andrea Zamorski I, Bob Hampston, leave memories of our moments together. AH!!!
